CITY AFFAIRS.

The Retrenchment Committee Starts Its Work.

THE LAUTERIO DEFALCATION.

The Statement Made Yesterday to the Board of Supervisors—Other Local Events.

The special Committee on Retrenchment, of the City Council, met yesterday morning, Councilmen Hamilton, Bonsall, Wirsching and City Clerk Teed and City Auditor Lopez present. Mr. Wirsching was elected Chairman and Mr. Teed Secretary, and the announcement was made to the effect that it was the duty of the committee to recommend a plan whereby the expenses of the different departments of the city government can be kept within the amount to be raised by the tax levy during the present year.

A petition from the Park Commissioners asking that money be expended in laying pipe in the parks, so that the money already expended might not be a loss, was read.

Major Bonsall said that he was of the opinion that it would be economy to protect the work already done, and that it would not be wise to refuse to expend enough money to accomplish this object. A great deal of money had been expended on the parks, and that this should not be a loss it would be necessary to lay water pipes.

Mr. Teed was of the same opinion. He thought that it would be good business policy to protect the work already completed.

Superintendent of Parks Le Grand stated that it would be necessary to lay about $800 worth of pipe in the West Lake Park. He also said that it would be well to lay pipes in the Elysian Park, but it was decided that it would be too expensive to pump water over the hills.

Major Bonsall moved that the committee recommend that the Park Commissioners be allowed to expend $800 for laying pipe in the West Lake Park. Carried.

The question of insuring the Downey-avenue and First-street bridges was brought up, and it was decided that as they are iron structures there would be no necessity for insuring them.

The matter of cutting down the expenses in some of the City Departments was then formally discussed. It was thought by some of the members of the committee that the Police Force might be reduced to some extent. It was argued that Los Angeles is a remarkably peaceable city, and that crime could be as well kept down with less men. A suggestion was made that the forces of the Street Superintendent and of the City Engineer could be cut down some and that the expenses of the Fire Department were too large. The City Auditor was instructed to present the pay rolls of the different departments, and City Clerk Teed said that he would have the contracts for street sprinkling, garbage collecting, and street sweeping before the committee at the next meeting.

The matter of street sprinkling was discussed very shortly. The question was as to whether the streets should be sprinkled by the city or by the citizens. City Clerk Teed claimed that the following section of the charter meant that the sprinkling would have to be paid out of the tax levy: "It shall, by ordinance, provide for maintaining a fire alarm and police telegraph system, and for the cleaning and sprinkling of graded and accepted streets."

The matter was then dropped, although Major Bonsall said that it was a bugbear and should be carefully considered. Mr. Wirsching suggested that it would be a good plan to ask a number of the prominent citizens to appear before the committee and give their ideas as to how the retrenchment can best be made. The Secretary was requested to notify some of these gentlemen.

It was decided that the committee should meet hereafter on Wednesday afternoons, Thursday mornings and Friday afternoons, and the committee adjourned.

THE DEFALCATION.

How Much Money Was Stolen from the County?

Before the Board of Supervisors yesterday Mr. T. E. Rowan introduced the following resolution in relation to the defalcations in the late Auditor's office:

WHEREAS, It has been reported in the morning and evening papers that A. A. Montaño and F. Lauterio, Auditor and Deputy Auditor during the years 1887 and 1888, are short in their accounts with the County Treasurer in the sum of $40,000 or $50,000; and

WHEREAS, The amounts actually short in said office, as per statement made by the expert employed by the county of Los Angeles, is $5,652 only; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the actual amounts so found short be furnished to the newspapers by the Clerk of the Board.

This resolution passed, and in accordance therewith the following statement from the expert was furnished the reporters:

LOS ANGELES, August 15, 1889.
Board of Supervisors, Los Angeles County:
GENTLEMEN—Complying with your request of this date, I append a statement of numbers of warrants and amounts of deficiency found by me during the last examination made as ordered by you and the Grand Jury, in the Auditor's office:

Yours faithfully,
W. R. BLACKMAN.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 15th day of August, 1889.
C. H. DUNSMOOR, Clerk.
By C. H. BLAKE, Deputy.

During a recess of the board a HERALD reporter entered the room to take off this list, when the Clerk of the board and Supervisor Martin entered into conversation about the matter, and the statements made by the papers to the effect that the defalcations might amount to $50,000 were treated to some adverse criticism. The reporter attempted to justify his guild in this matter, and to get some detailed information on the subject. He thought Mr. Clerk Blake developed too much warm feeling and too little explanation, and that Mr. Martin took a wrong view of the purposes and methods of newspaper reporters. The reporter stated that from information given him he did not think any one could say the above was certainly the total sum of the stealings. He stated that, if his information was correct, it might amount to even ten times the sum given. The Pomona Supervisor, twisting this into another shape, when the board met introduced the following resolution:

WHEREAS, C. W. Burton, in the office of this board, positively avers that the sum stated, viz,: the sworn statement of W. R. Blackman, expert, to-wit: $5,652, is not a tenth part of the amount of said defalcation, and also that he is in receipt of positive information in regard to this matter;

Now, then, the Clerk of this board is instructed to notify the Foreman of the Grand Jury of the matter, and ask that he be summoned to testify in regard to the same.

The HERALD reporter interviewed Mr. Blackman, who stated that being under oath to the Grand Jury, he could give the newspapers little information. He said: "You may say this: I have gone over the books carefully between the dates given in my list. So far as I have gone I think I have found all there is of fraud in the accounts." Mr. Blackman states that he does not know what there may be prior to the date first given.

There is certainly no reason why the Clerk of the board, or any member of it, should develop any feeling in this matter. The reporters are employed to gather such news as they can, and that is all the interest they have. The public is deeply interested in this matter, and wish to get to the bottom of it. People not skilled in newspaper work naturally misconstrue its methods. Queer things come to reporters' ears. The HERALD reporter in question received last night, through the mail, a letter. It comes to him as an anonymous communication, and therefore is not worthy of as much attention as it would demand had the writer signed his name. But this letter sets forth that the expert who went over the books was suggested by the very man who is most suspected of having concocted the steal on the treasury. There is much other matter in the letter of a startling nature.

Yesterday ex-Auditor Montaño prepared bail in the sum of $5,000, to which amount his bonds had been reduced. His sureties are E. Bouton, E. F. Spence, Sherman Smith, H. L. Bissell and W. A. Henry.

There has been a great deal of queer work done all along the line in the whole matter of the Lauterio defalcation. When Lauterio was about to be given up by his bondsmen, the Sheriff's office was detained for hours in trying to get the document into its possession. In that time the defaulter had gone into hiding, and later on got out of town. It is much suspected that a county official who is implicated in the steal gave Lauterio warning to skip. Here is another mystery:

While Lauterio was hiding in San Bernardino county in the mountains, he is said to have written out a full confession, giving away all his "pals." This was intrusted to one of the exile's friends, to be given to Mrs. Lauterio, who was to go to San Bernardino to get it. She was to give it to Sheriff Aguirre. The messenger to whom this paper was delivered never met Mrs. Lauterio. No one knows what ever became of this paper.

There are many who hold that Montaño is entirely innocent, and say that Lauterio, in charging him, is only "playing even" on his chief, as he thinks, having been informed falsely, that Montaño had told where he was in hiding. What the people fear is that political affiliations will cause the matter to be glossed over as easily as possible, and that some of the "boodling" gang will escape the punishment they deserve.

Those who ought to know declare that Lauterio will today make a clean breast of all he knows, and that by tonight it will all be known, and that several criminals will grace cells in the County Jail.

THE FEDERAL BUILDING.

The Work Stopped Just in the Nick of Time.

Official notice has been received by Mr. Jacobs, the architect of the Federal building, to stop work at the top of the first story. Up to the present time there has been some doubt as to what action would finally be taken by Mr. Windrim, the Supervising Architect of the Treasury. He had expressed himself as of the opinion that the work had better be stopped at the top of the first story until it could be ascertained what action Congress would take in the matter of the increased appropriation. He wrote to Representative Vandever, asking his opinion in the matter, and was informed that it was the general wish of the people of this section that the work should be discontinued.

No definite action was taken, however, and the labors of the workmen engaged on the building continued. But for the accidental delay of the rounded brick to be used in the buttresses, the building would now be advanced beyond the stage at which it could be advantageously stopped. Attention was called to this fact by the HERALD about a week ago, and it was stated that unless an official notice was sent to Mr. Jacobs that the work must stop, the bricklayers would, in a few days more, be well into the second story.

Now at last comes a definite and authoritative statement that the building must be allowed to stand unfinished at the top of the first story, and except for the finishing of the stone doorway on the Winston-street side and the curved buttresses, six in number, on the two fronts of the building, no further work will be done until after the next session of Congress.

A Southern Pacific Change.

The Southern Pacific has leased the building on the southeast corner of Spring and Second streets for a term of years. It will be used for their down town offices. Their offices are at present located at the corner of Main and Commercial streets. The building in question, on the corner of Spring and Second streets, is now occupied as a saloon.

CAMP BURNSIDE.

Proceedings of Two Days Among the Veterans.

THE LOGAN ENTERTAINMENT.

An Interesting Programme Well Carried Out—Notes From the Encampment.

Owing to the crowded condition of the columns of the HERALD during the last few days, the reports from the G. A. R. encampment at San Pedro have been much abridged. Wednesday was Woman's Relief Corps day. The call for guard mount at 9 o'clock was responded to by the comrades of the G. A. R., the Relief Corps and the Pomona Flag Corps.

After the details for the day were made the column was photographed in several positions. The Relief Corps and Flag Corps gave a drill in front of headquarters. The officers of the Relief Corps carried swords, which they handled with great dexterity. Immediately after guard mount a large number of comrades and their friends took a three hours' trip on the tug Falcon to Long Beach and the lighthouse. The principal event of the morning was the arrival of Mrs. General Fremont and daughter on the 11 o'clock train. The ladies were met at the depot by Colonel and Mrs. Mudge, Mother Ranson, and other army nurses and members of the W. R. C., and driven to their hotel, where lunch was served, after which the visitors were escorted to headquarters.

At 1 o'clock there was an entertainment at the pavilion, at which the following excellent programme was given:

Music, "Star Spangled Banner," Orange Band; recitation, "Reunion," Murrietta B Thomas; vocal solo, "My Love is Come," Mrs. M. F. Tarble; Flag Corps drill, fifty small girls of Pomona; welcome to Mrs. General Fremont; recitation, Mamma's Little Boy," Miss Pearlie Gleason.

After the exercises Mrs. Fremont was tendered a reception, at which nearly every person in camp was present to shake hands and welcome the distinguished visitor.

YESTERDAY'S PROCEEDINGS.

The annual District Convention of the G. A. R. was held yesterday morning in the City Hall at San Pedro. Representatives and delegates from all the posts in the district were present. The following officers were elected for the year commencing January 6, 1890: Comrade J. P. Jones, of Heintzelman Post, San Diego, Commander; Comrade Whitson, of Whitson Post, Senior Vice-Commander; Comrade E C. Berry, of Gordon Grange Post, Junior Vice-Commander; Comrade C. Kokeim, of San Diego, Quartermaster. The Council of Administration was elected as follows: Comrades John Brooker, A. W. Barrett, T. C. Thomas, F. F. Laycock and J. E. Mack.

Dress parade last evening at 5 o'clock was much better than usual, and more men are now turning out for parade than when the encampment opened. A general order was read to the effect that Col. Brooker, of Dan Bidwell Post, would be in command of camp until further notice.

Logan Post and Drum Corps held afternoon and evening exercises in the pavilion in honor to the memory of the General whose name they bear. It was also the anniversary of the organization of the Post. The entertainment provided was one of the best, if not the best, of the encampment, such artists as Miss Katherine Kimball, Miss Irene Esmond, Mrs. Ashberry and daughter, Miss Helen Mar Bennett, George Hanna and Prof. Brenner being on the programme and rendering their best selections.

Rev. Comrade Button asked the invocation, and Post Commander Myron F. Tarble made an address of welcome. Mr. George Hanna rendered a selection which showed his bass voice to great advantage. The next number was an oration, "John A. Logan, the Typical Volunteer Commander," which was to have been delivered by Gen. H. H. Boyce, but he was prevented from being present and his place was taken on very short notice by Comrade H. H. McKoon, who read an oration. "John A. Logan, the Stalwart Statesman," was the subject on which Major John A. Donnell based his very eloquent address.

Major J. J. Gosper, P. P. C., in responding to the sentiment, "The W. R. C." (Mrs. John A. Logan in particular), spoke of the great fortitude displayed by many of the women of the country during war times, and paid a high tribute to Mrs. Logan and the ladies of the Relief Corps in a manner that completely captivated his hearers.

Commander Tarble proposed three cheers for Mrs. Logan, which were given with a will. General H. T. Rollins spoke on the "G. A. R."

Capain W. H. Seamans spoke in relation to Logan Post. Rev. C. Willard, late Chaplain of the Fourth United States Artillery, and other comrades invited for the day, took the platform and made short speeches or told stories of army life. The speakers were alternated with by the musical talent present, and the very interesting and pleasing exercises were closed by singing by the audience.

A very enjoyable dance was given after the evening entertainment. There was a large crowd present, who danced until midnight.

The Bartlett Post and Relief Corps have their exercises today.

NOTES.

Captain Savage, Judge-Advocate of the district, is a host in himself. He works all day and is seemingly tireless in his efforts to make things comfortable for campers.

Police Judge Stanton was at camp on Wednesday.

Mrs. General Fremont was at camp yesterday.

Messrs. Pitcher & Gray have donated one of Stetson's best G. A. R. hats, which is to be voted for, the comrade obtaining the largest number of votes to become the owner of the hat. Ten cents will be charged for each vote. Adjutant Tarble and Commander Skinner, of Stanton Post, are the only candidates.

The following dispatch was received at headquarters Wednesday:

"DETROIT, Mich., August 14.
"Comrades Seamans, Boyce and Mitchell, Committee on Invitation:
"Many thanks for Logan Day invitation, and regret that I cannot be present. Best regards to all comrades present. R. A. ALGER."

SAN PEDRO HARBOR.

Representative Conger of Iowa Visits It.

ACCOMPANIED BY A LARGE PARTY

A Chamber of Commerce Committee —The Visit to the G. A. R. Camp —Mr. Conger's Views.

A large party of prominent citizens of Los Angeles and Pasadena went down to San Pedro yesterday for the purpose of accompanying Representative Edwin H. Conger on his visit of informal inspection to the proposed harbor improvement. Mr. Conger is an active and influential member of the Lower House, and has represented his district in Iowa continuously for several terms. He has been visiting for the past week with his brother, the Rev. E. L. Conger, of Pasadena, and when he expressed a wish to visit San Pedro, President W. N. Masters, of the Pasadena Chamber of Commerce, sent word in to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, in order that he might be suitably entertained.

The party went down on the 9:40 train of the Southern Pacific yesterday morning, and they were about twenty in number. Besides Representative Vandever, who came down to accompany his colleague on the trip, there were Rev. E. L. Conger, of Pasadena, and John Conger, of Fresno; Colonel J. Banbury, O. Caswell, W. H. Vail, H. M. Conger, Dr. O. H. Conger and Willis N. Masters, of Pasadena; T. A. Lewis, M. R. Higgins, Fred Eaton, Captain Seamans, Louis Blankenhorn, Major Donnell, Captain Barrett, General Brierly, Hervey Lindley, Senator McComas and Judge McKinley.

At San Pedro the party boarded a large 'bus and was driven to the G. A. R. Encampment grounds, which both the Congressmen were desirous of visiting, both being Grand Army men. They then drove out to Point Fermin, where they were met by Captain Shaw, the keeper of the lighthouse, and with the aid of maps and tabulated statistics shown in an admirable manner both the need of the proposed improvements and the convenient method by which they could be accomplished. During his residence on the point Captain Shaw has been visited by a number of Senators and Congressional parties, and has become quite an expert in the business of explaining the situation.

The company drove back to a hotel in the city, where a fish dinner had been ordered for them by the Frank Bartlett Post. After dinner some of the party rowed over to the bath-house and went in for a swim, but the two Representatives went back to the G. A. R. camp. A large number of people gathered in the pavilion, the news that there were distinguished visitors in camp having spread, and the Congressmen were called upon for speeches. General Vandever made a few remarks eulogistic of the organization whose members he was addressing, and Mr. Conger made a very felicitous speech, which was received with hearty applause.

The 3 o'clock train brought the company back to this city. In spite of the fact that the weather had been unusually hot, it was generally conceded that the day had been pleasantly passed by all.

Within the limits of reasonable conservatism, Mr. Conger expressed himself as warmly in favor of the improvement of San Pedro harbor.

"It is largely a question of figures," said he, "and the figures are not so much those of the cost of the improvement as of the results to follow from carrying it out. If you can show, as I believe you can, that the produce of the back country and the need for imports of your cities demand such an assistant to transportation as this improved harbor would be, then I am confident that the appropriation can be obtained. Of course it must be admitted that if there were a harbor here it would stimulate both production and consumption to such a degree that it is difficult to estimate beforehand just what traffic would pass through it; nevertheless, a fairly good estimate can be obtained from the tonnage figures of the railroads and the trade which already passes through the harbor.

"What is needed more than anything else to enable Congress to act intelligently in the matter is that its individual members should see and know this country. They can then judge whether such a State as this, with all its advantages and possibilities, is not entitled to more than two harbors in its 900 miles of seaboard.

"You had a visit here a short time ago from a number of Senators. Shortly before I left Iowa Senator Allison, who was here with that party, returned to his home and I took dinner with him. He talked constantly of this State and of the remarkable progress which it has made. I imagine that all of the others who visited here were similarly impressed. One hasty glance at a country, even though it be through the windows of a car, is better than any amount of written information. These men will now have an idea of the possibilities of this country and what can be accomplished by the improvements for which you ask. They will talk with the others at Washington, and as the views of chance visitors to the State will be known to be free from bias, they will have great weight."

In summing up his views Mr. Conger said that he believed Congress would in the future be more fully awake to the claims of this State, having come to an appreciation of the extraordinary advance which it had accomplished in the last few years, and the result would be that it would come in for careful consideration at the hands of the various Congressional committees.

Representative Vandever said that although he had already a pretty clear idea of the harbor and proposed improvements, he wanted to take every opportunity to go over the ground and thoroughly familiarize himself with all the details, so that he could be ready to tackle the River and Harbor Committee next fall well loaded with facts.

Mr. Conger has been spending some time with his brother in the northern part of the State, where he has an interest in a raisin ranch near Fresno. He will stay a few days longer in Pasadena and will then return East. This is not Mr. Conger's first visit to the State.

SANTA MONICA.

Mr. James McLaughlin Arrested Regarding the Sewer Troubles.

The sensation of the day is the arrest on warrant of Mr. James McLaughlin, the proprietor of the Second-street cable road. The affair is the result of the local sewer question. Ever since the tent town was established on North Beach vigorous protests have been made regarding the practice of the residents of Ocean avenue of dumping their sewage on to the sands. Mr. Spilman finally took the matter into the courts and local orders were issued to the effect that the nuisances be abated within eight days. Mr. McLaughlin is charged with disregarding these instructions, and is at the hour of writing undergoing examination in Justice McElfresh's court. The case is important, as it is a test and affects the whole of the residences on Ocean avenue.

The members of the Los Angeles County District Lodge, I. O. G. T., are in convention today at Steere's Opera House. During the morning a meeting was held to confer with the D. L. degree and this afternoon business matters are under discussion. This evening a public meeting and entertainment is announced and all are invited.

At the First Presbyterian Church a Christian conference is in full sway. The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of Los Angeles Presbytery has charge of the proceedings today and tomorrow. Everything is in the hands of the Society of Christian Endeavor.

Mr. Henry Steere, of the Southern Pacific, who has just returned from Camp Dimond on Pacific Beach, was here today. He said that Santa Monica is beyond all comparison as a watering place. At Pacific Beach the stingrays are so thick that regimental orders had to be issued forbidding the soldiers from bathing. Dynamite was exploded in the water to drive the pests away, but even then in one hour six men were stung.

Sunday next is to be one of entertainment. At 11 a. m. a baseball match, to which there will be no charge for admission, is to be played, and in the afternoon there will be a swimming match for the championship of Santa Monica and a purse of $250. The course is a mile and return, and the contestants are Al Carillo, the champion of North Beach, and Charles Waller, of South Beach.

On Saturday afternoon a cricket match is to be played here between the Santa Monica and Los Angeles elevens. There are good players on both sides and an excellent contest is certain.

The tennis players are hard at work preparing for the tournament which opens on Monday next.

Joe Ellingsworth is in fine trim and is ready to step into the ring at any moment. He scales 153 pounds.

The Board of Equalization is in session at the Bank, and will not be able to dispose of all the business before Saturday.

The highest temperature here today was only 77 degrees in the shade.

Mrs. I. L. Requa, wife of the Piedmont millionaire, left today, with her daughters, for home.

Adjutant-General Volkmar, U. S. A., the handsome and affable assistant director of the Department of Arizona, was down today for a few hours by the sea.

L. Puett, M. D., arrived at the Arcadia today for a summer sojourn.

Judge Brunson's stately form was noticeable about town today.

Chief of Telegraphers Bob Hamilton, of the Southern Pacific, listened to the sobbing of the waves this afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Jenks concluded their visit here today and left for home on the afternoon train.

Mrs. Stoneman was among the distinguished visitors here today.

The Misses Weir are down for a summer vacation.

L. A. Ingersoll, wife and child, W. T. Dalton, H. H. Rose and W. V. Wyckhoff are among the arrivals at the Arcadia today. H.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

[The tenor of communications appearing in this column is not necessarily endorsed by the editors of the HERALD. The writer who desires to be heard in it should always accompany his screed with his full name, not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith.]

He Doth Protest.

EDITORS HERALD—I see in your report of the City Council proceedings that a petition was presented for a franchise to erect poles and wires, and furnish electric light. Now, as a citizen and taxpayer, I must most emphatically protest against our beautiful city being further disfigured by the erection of any more of those unsightly electric, telegraph and telephone poles; the present number is gradually getting so large that, on looking down the street, one naturally asks himself what would be the result of that tangled net of wire-work should a conflagration ever take place.

If another company begins erecting poles let them be made to follow in the wake of New York city, and put their wires underground. The width of the sidewalks is insufficient as they are now without additional poles.

The Council, while they have the opportunity, should compel any new company to place their wires underground. All other cities are following New York, and why should we be left behind in the steady march of progress and improvement? I enclose my card and remain, yours truly, CITIZEN.

Los Angeles, August 15, 1889.

He Wants a New Council.

EDITORS HERALD—In this day of turmoil and uncertainty, when so many petitions are circulated, do you not think that the shortest road to prosperity and good government would be to circulate a petition requesting our Council to resign? and, instead of wasting time and money in voting down the purchase of the Rod and Gun Club pond and other boodling schemes on the 30th inst., to elect a new Council—one that is capable to govern our city. So long as it takes the Mayor, all the newspapers in the city [the Tribune may note an exception], a score of men hounding the town with petitions, and the indignation of all our citizens to keep our Council in the path of rectitude, so long will our city enjoy a standstill. Investors and homeseekers will steer far clear of a city that is liable to start a tunnel to the antipodes any Monday morning. Our city is too progressive to put up with this state of affairs for another year and a half. Think of it! it will be Junuary, 1891, before we can "turn the rascals out."

At the present rate there is not material enough in the city to make Police Commissioners of. Ireland and Mexico will have to send in a new invoice of citizens to keep up the force, and the "handle" "ex-Chief of Police" will be stuck to the names of half our citizens.

But I will not attempt to enumerate mistakes, they are too well known to waste your columns with, but like the bristles on an angry—pig, I fear they hide the unsmoked bacon underneath them.

Whenever that petition comes around here is a name for you. S. W. RAYS.

Los Angeles, Cal., August 14th, 1889.

HIGH SCHOOL BONDS.

Appeal From the Members of the City Board of Education.

To the qualified voters of Los Angeles city:

You will be called upon to vote, on the 31st of this month, for or against issuing bonds of the city in the amount of $200,000 for the purpose of affording additional school facilities to the public school system of the city.

It is generally conceded that we need new buildings, and that the old ones should be repaired. We are now trying to house and teach nearly 7,000 children, and lack of room prevents many children from attending more than half a day, as we have no places in which to put them. Some of the buildings have only to be seen, and you could not help pronouncing them discreditable to such a city as ours, and there is hardly one that does not demand some repair, made necessary by the ordinary wear and tear.

Your Board of Education has paid attention to these matters, and is actuated solely by the public good in advising you to vote for the issuing of these bonds. They propose to repair wherever necessary, alter where advisable, purchase new sites in proper places, and erect thereon suitable buildings. You have already been advised of this by the necessary legal notices in the newspapers. These notices have also shown you the neighborhood of the proposed sites and the estimated cost of the buildings to be erected upon each site. Further, your board has had plans made for the new buildings by many architects of successful experience in such matters, and have adopted such as seemed most suitable.

The only objection so far raised against the action of the board is the location of the High School on Castelar street, near Temple street. This location is but 1,324 feet distant from Temple Block.

Your board submits to you the following reasons which are good and sufficient, as they believe, in favor of the proposed site:

GOOD REASONS FOR LOCATING THE HIGH SCHOOL ON CASTELAR STREET.

First. There was not any outlay of money for the site. It was owned by the city and donated by ordinance for High school purposes. The amount of ground is not too great, but is sufficient, being 198x232 feet. This depth cannot be obtained elsewhere, unless it be taken through a block, thus making two frontages, which would make the grounds cost from $50,000 to $75,000, according to location, or as much as the building itself.

Second. The site is centrally located, being only a quarter of a mile from the Plaza—the geographical center of the city. It is convenient of access, being 1,324 feet, or one fourth of a mile, from the junction of Main, Spring and Temple streets, where all the car lines of the city either pass or terminate. The steepest grade on Temple street is seven feet in 100; and the grade on Castelar street for a short distance is eight feet in 100.

Third. The site commands a view of the entire city, and the building could be seen from any point in the city, thus affording a landmark and an object of beauty and pride to point out to visitors.

Fourth. The location is above Sand-street sewer, thereby affording an admirable opportunity for correct plumbing and sanitation.

Fifth. There is an impassable hill between this point and Sonoratown, so that the two points are as practically separated as if they were a mile apart.

Sixth. While the location is central, it will never be disturbed by business houses. It is a quiet neighborhood, surrounded by residences of the best class of people in our city.

Seventh. The city at present needs but one High School building. When it has grown to such dimensions as to need others, this one will be so located that branches can be properly and conveniently located in East Los Angeles, on Boyle Heights, in the West End and in the South End, thereby accommodating everybody.

There has been some talk about building the High School on the lot at the corner of Grand avenue and Eighth street. Your board submits to you some good reasons for objection to this site:

GOOD REASONS FOR NOT LOCATING THE HIGH SCHOOL AT EIGHTH AND GRAND AVENUE.

First. It is impossible to use this lot for the High School. The building now on that ground has a frontage of 125 feet. The High School building is to have a frontage of 140 feet. The lot has a frontage of 240 feet, or 25 feet less than the actual amount required for the two buildings, to say nothing of play ground required for the 700 pupils who would be assembled there.

The High School building is to have a depth of 140 feet. The lot is 165 feet, which would leave but 25 feet unoccupied, or 12½ feet each, in front and rear.

Second. The location is one mile and a quarter from the Plaza, or a mile farther than the Castelar-street site.

It is four miles and one-third from the northeast corner of the city, and only two miles from the southwest corner.

Third. The location is on or near but one car line. Pupils from the Main street car line would have to pay an extra fare or walk 2,000 feet from the corner of Eighth and Main streets.

Those from the Second-street cable line would have to pay the extra fare or walk 3,900 feet or three-quarters of a mile up Grand avenue, on a grade of 19 feet in 100, from Fifth to Second streets,

From the Temple-street cable line they must walk 5,709 feet, or more than a mile over the Grand avenue route and grade, or transfer and pay the extra fare.

Fourth. The location is below the Seventh-street sewer, and could not be connected. The present Eighth-street school cannot be connected with the sewer for the same reason.

Fifth. You save $100 000 by voting for the bonds. If you vote against the bonds, you abandon the selected site, which is easily worth $25 0.0; and to purchase a new site near Grand avenue and Eighth street of the same size will cost you $75,000, making a total loss of $100.000.

Sixth. Should the bonds not be voted, the board may be compelled by want of funds to limit the school term for the coming year to eight months, which would be a great misfortune to our school interests, for, aside from the High School question, there is much to be done that is absolutely necessary.

Seventh. Your board asks for $50,000 for the High School building, and not $90,000 as has been repeatedly mis-stated.

Board of Education.

While I do not deem the proposed site of the proposed new High school just what or where it should be, still as the proposed site is central and was donated by the city, and although I was never consulted as to its location in any manner whatever, still, as I regard additional school facilities a public necessity, I hope and trust my friends in the Eighth and other wards will vote for and aid the school bonds on the day of election, and thus show that we love and cherish principles above and beyond prejudices and partisanship.

M. WHALING,
of the City Board of Education.

Potts on the Sewer Again.

EDITORS HERALD—In my article published in your paper of the 12th inst. I failed to give credit to the sewer system for that part of the central intercepting sewer that runs north up the river and crosses to the east side, following up the river to the intersection of Hayes and Arroyo Seco streets. This gives the people along the river a chance for an intercepting sewer. But the amount of money apportioned to each system is correct as stated in that article, viz.: For the outfall sewer, $440,000; for the storm water drains, $508,000, and for all intercepting sewers, including the one on the west side and mostly outside of the city and of but little benefit to inside property, $332,000; thus leaving one and one-half miles on the north, about two miles on the east and four miles on the west, including the western hills, entirely without a single intercepting sewer. How is this for an equal distribution of the burthen of taxation without representation? No wonder that Mr. Glassell and all other taxpayers object to such an unequal and unjust system. As to the statement in the Tribune that Mr. Glassell is opposed to public improvements and does nothing in that line with his own money, I wish to say on my own responsibility that A. Glassell is not opposed to public improvements, and he so stated in his letters to the HERALD. He is in favor of having his large estate assessed for the purpose of constructing a good and equitable sewer system, as also for building school houses, court houses, and all other public buildings and improvements, but rightfully thinks he has as much right to express an opinion as to how this money should be expended as the Tribune, or any other paper or person, especially as his property must be assessed for one twelve-hundredth part of this large sum to be expended, while there are twelve thousand men that have a right to vote on the disposition of this money. As to Mr. Gassell's public spirit, I think his improvements will compare with most other men. He has built about thirty houses in this city in the last five years, and has furnished large sums of money and lands to others (to my own knowledge) to make other extensive improvements, and as the money to pay these bonds is to be raised by assessing the property of Mr. Glassell and others of this city, I wish to say to the taxpayers in closing this article, keep your eyes open; don't be deceived by a marked map; read the ordinance as published in the HERALD and consult your city map and there you will find out where the money is to go, and what sections are to be benefited by its expenditure. The poor people in all the suburbs will have to pay their part of these bonds, and they will have to build their own sewers and intercepting sewers, which will simply amount to a confiscation of their property.

MOUNTAIN RESORTS.

Wilson's Peak and the San Gabriel Canon.

Perhaps few mountain resorts in Southern California have this season been visited by as large a number of people as Wilson's Peak and the San Gabriel Cañon; and many who do not mind the fatigue incident to the long climb have included both these popular resorts in their trip by ascending the trail to the peak, crossing over the range into Bear Cañon, and thence out at the San Gabriel.

The writer was one of a party who, with such a trip in contemplation, left the Angelic City not many weeks since, and after a delightful ride through the beautiful orange groves of Alhambra, San Gabriel and Sierra Madre, was duly deposited at the foot of the trail, near the home of Mr. N. C. Carter. Here the patient and often abused "burro" is brought into requisition, and the ascent of the trail is soon begun.

It was some fifteen years since that the Hon. B. D. Wilson, a pioneer of the valley and founder of the beautiful town of Alhambra, built this trail with a view of gaining access to the fields of timber which were supposed to lie on the northern slope of the mountain. This idea was, however, finally abandoned, owing to the great labor required in the transportation of the timber, and the trail consequently fell out of repair, being hardly ever traveled save by an occasional tourist or hunter until, the location of the temporary observatory on the summit awakened interest anew, and added impetus to the travel.

The trail has at considerable expense been repaired, and is now in comparatively good condition, the dangerous places having been obviated by the widening of the track, and in many places, for short distances, an entirely new trail has been cut.

For the first few miles the ascent is quite gradual, but soon becomes steeper and steeper until the enduring burro manifests signs of distress, and frequent stops are made to allow the animal a chance to regain his breath.

On the left, the pine-covered and rocky summit towers far above in the misty distance. While on the other side, one may gaze down into a cañon of almost incalculable depth, from which the roar of water scarcely rises above the murmuring of the pines moved by the gentle summer breeze. The utter absence of animal life is also singularly striking, as no sound breaks the stillness of the mountain air save that of the elements, and perhaps the chirp of a solitary bird from the pines which overhang the path. The sameness of the scenery, however grand, becomes almost monotonous as mile after mile is passed, until the welcome sound of voices is heard, which warn the traveler that the summit is near, and after one more vigorous climb the "burros" stand panting before Steil's camp. Peter Steil and Mr. Cheeny, whose camp is situated farther in the rear, have fitted up comfortable tents, and provide for the temporal wants of the sojourner in a home-like style, and at a most reasonable consideration.

The temporary observatory in charge of Messrs. Ring and Black is located about a quarter of a mile beyond Mr. Steil's on one of the many peaks which rise to varied heights on all sides. The existence of these numerous peaks gives rise to much disputation as to which one the name of Wilson originally applied, and many theories are advanced accordingly. The statement of an old mountaineer who assisted in the construction of the trail, that that honor belongs to the one which, from the valley below, appears to be the most elevated, is generally conceded as authority. From this elevation an unobstructed view of the surrounding country can be obtained. Like a vast panorama the valley spreads itself before the eye, villages and towns intermingled with green orchards, like specks appear, and the hills as mere furrows upon the bosom of Mother Earth. While in the far-distant horizon a faint blue line marks the boundaries of the mighty Pacific, and sight is lost in the distance. In the early morning, when the valley is wrapped in fog, the effect is almost indescribable. The sunrise, as viewed from this elevation, is also of wondrous beauty. After visiting the many places of interest at and around the peak, the trail is again taken and the descent on the opposite side of the range commences. The time required for the descent into Bear Cañon is about two hours. On this trail the "Devil's Slide" is considered one of the most dangerous places, and in the time gone by not infrequently an overloaded burro was precipitated down the slide by the giving way of the treacherous sand. If care is exercised there is now little danger of such an occurrence,

Bear cañon, owing to the difficulty of access, has as yet been but little frequented and one may journey its entire length of fifteen miles without meeting a human being. The stream here abounds with trout of immense size, and the footprints of bears and deer are also numerous though the animals are seldom seen.

Sixteen miles below Wilson's Peak Bear cañon joins the west fork of the San Gabriel, and after another sixteen miles the junction of the two main cañons, the north and west forks, is reached. Here the stream formed by the unison of the waters of the two cañons, becomes a rushing torrent which contributes a never-failing supply of water to the towns of Azusa, Duarte, Glendora and Vineland.

Four miles below are located the extensive works of the Victoria Mining Company, and from here until the cañon enlarges at Azusa numerous placer claims dot the rugged sides of the mountains, and if dependence can be placed upon the prophetic utterances of the mining fraternity the San Gabriel cañon may yet become a second El Dorado.

East San Gabriel.

A parochial school, they say, is shortly to be started at San Gabriel. It is also rumored that the elegant and beautifully located East San Gabriel Hotel is shortly to be let for a long term to eastern parties who expect to keep it filled all the year round, on the excursion plan, the equable climate, delightful situation, and the charm of its surroundings being considered very attractive. The tower of the San Gabriel school is very imposing; as a matter of fact all of our public school country buildings are towering.

Mr. Ira Felt has entered into an agreement with the bright little seven and ten year old boys of his neighbor, Mr. Saxon, to pick and dry the peaches of his orchard on shares. The boys are happy and full of business, and the dried fruit market of next season will, no doubt, be overstocked.

Civil war has broken out where the scale bug is exterminated, and the black flag is now raised among the vedolia.

One of Mr. J. C. Hannon's fine boys, Vincent, left Savannah, accompanied by his mother as far as San Pedro, for the college at Santa Clara, where Vinnie expects to finish the coming year, and receive his final degrees.

Wm. R. Dodson, of the Monte Hotel, has been sick, but is now up and doing, and meditating the building of a new hall or adding on to the one he recently built.

THE GARRETT CASE.

The Defense Commences the Taking of Testimony.

Yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock the Garrett incest case was resumed before Justice Lockwood, with the examination of J. W. Glendell, a painter who has known Malia Garrett since July, 1888. He was questioned as to the location of a large box, which he saw at Garrett's house while doing some work there. He testified to hearing Garrett scold his daughter Malia for misplacing a saw, and being afterwards told by little Ella that her father had whipped Malia with the saw. He said that in reply to a question put to Malia, the girl said she was afraid that Garrett would kill her if she complained of him. The witness was not cross-examined.

W. A. Stratton, President and Manager of the Union Lumber and Supply Company, testified that he had known Garrett for about two years past, and first met Malia in the Bellevue avenue Methodist church some eighteen months ago. He was then closely questioned about the conversations which he had with the defendant during the past four weeks with regard to the prosecution of Edgcomb. The details of each of these conversations were very minutely brought out. His visit to Mr. Payton's office with a view of dropping the charges against Edgcomb was also dwelt upon, and the fact that the attorney refused to be a party to any such arrangement elicited,

At this juncture the witness was excused, and Garrett took advantage of the temporary cessation of the proceedings to change his seat so as to face the complainant, Malia Edgcomb. Mr. Payton called the attention of the Court to this, and stated that her father's fixed stare was exceedingly disagreeable to his client, and was a species of intimidation to which he objected. The Court said it was beyond his power to designate any particular spot in the courtroom where the defendant should be seated. Garrett, however, changed his seat to the one at the end of the table as before, and the case was resumed.

Officer C. C. Connolly was examined and stated that he occupied the room next to the one in which Garrett and his daughter Malia lived, at Mrs. Farrell's house, on Clay street. Little Ella was not with them at that time. They lived there three months.

M. L. Wicks, President of the Girl's Home, detailed the circumstances surrounding the marriage of Edgcomb and Malia. He did not know Edgcomb before the affair and simply took an interest in the case because it had been brought to his notice as President of the Home. He said the facts had been misstated at the time by an ambitious reporter connected with an evening paper. On cross-examination he said that he had only held one conversation with or in the presence of Garrett, and that the others he had mentioned were held during his absence.

F. E. Olds, an electro-plater, was briefly questioned as to his occupancy of a room adjoining that of the Garrets' in the Breed block about two years ago. Garrett always acknowledged Malia as his daughter, and they lived alone, as far as the witness knew. He only saw the inside of their room on one occasion.

C. C. Connolly was recalled, and stated that when living at Mrs. Fannell's, on Clay street, the Garretts always passed as father and daughter in public.

At this point Mr. Payton stated to the Court that two important witnesses for the prosecution were absent, and he had reasons for believing that one of them, Mrs. Hodges, was dodging the process of the court. As it was now 11:30 o'clock, he asked for a recess so that the Constable might have another chance to find her. The Court granted the request and ordered a recess until 2 p. m.

At 2 o'clock Mr. Stratton was recalled. He related the circumstances of his visit to Garrett two days after Malia's recital to him of her troubles. Garret urged him to tell Malia not to dig up dirt, as it would be worse for her. In reply to the witness's question as to the cause of her father's anxiety about Edgcomb's prosecution, Malia told voluntarily her whole story, commencing with the St. Louis scandal. Though at first objecting to it, she subsequently allowed him to tell Mr. Wicks and Mrs. Watson about it.

Malia Edgcomb was recalled and readily identified two long letters written by her father and addressed to her. The first one, which was not dated, was received at Mrs. Watson's in an envelope bearing the Government stamp, dated July 25th, 1888, while the second was dated July 29th, 1888, and was filed as evidence without the envelope. Both documents were read by Mr. Payton, and were full of bitter reproaches and appeals to the girl to remember her childish innocence and reform before it was too late.

The attorney for the defendant demanded that all Garrett's letters to his daughter be produced, but Payton refused and said they would be found at the proper time. A letter from Malia addressed to Edgcomb was then offered in evidence and read.

Upon cross-examination Malia was asked about letters she had received, and the drug store where the pills were bought by Edgcomb was dealt upon.

The prosecution then closed its case, and the defense called its first witness.

Mrs. Annie Farrell was examined as to renting a room to the Garretts about two years ago. It contained a double bed and a cot. She then lived on Clay street, corner of Third street. She also testified that Garrett, after staying there a month, went to the East, and on his return brought Malia a number of pretty dresses. He appeared to be very careful and fond of Malia.

Josie Corbett said she was born in Vienna, Europe, and had been in America for the past sixteen years. She came here three or four months ago with her mother, and they lived on Fort street. After that they lived at Captain Garrett's house for forty days. After she had been there one week she obtained Malia's confidence and heard a recital of her wrongs. She then detailed a conversation with Malia in the bakery which was in direct contravention of that given by Malia in every particular. At 5 o'clock the court adjourned until 9:30 this morning, when her direct examination will be resumed.

HOW MANY WAYS CAN THIS BE READ?

THE LOS ANGELES HERALD IS BY ALL ACKNOWLEDGED have been the prime factor in the discovery and making known of the resources of this section. To its sagacious outgivings more than to any other agency our marvelous development is attributed.

THE HERALD has from its inception watched with a single eye the budding industries of this portion of the State. For each good enterprise this journal has at all times had a word of cheerful encouragement. In spite of the skeptical, it has survived to see all of its earlier predictions fullfilled to the letter.

THE HERALD to-day takes the lead in all respects among the papers of Southern California. Its first care still is the material, intellectual and social interests of its section. It aims to be truthful rather than over-zealous in its publication of news; to be conservative rather than over-sensational, in its policy; to be clean and decent, respecting the sacred precincts of the home and fireside, rather than indecently salacious in its tone.

THE HERALD gets all the news from all quarters of the globe with promptness accuracy and dispatch. Its local staff is energetic and well-trained to miss nothing of real importance to its readers. It is always alive to all public enterprises.

THE HERALD still takes pride in aiding any legitimate material, intellectual or social movement which will benefit the people. No other journal in this section approaches it in those important respects.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 16, 1889.

An Unjustifiable Homicide.

The more we examine the facts connected with the killing of Judge Terry, the clearer does it appear to us that Justice Field's bodyguard committed a crime unjustified by the circumstances of the occasion. Until all the facts were known, there was a possibility that the Deputy Marshal only fired when he saw that Terry was armed, and that the life of Justice Field was in immisent jeopardy. Had such been the case there would have been justification for the shooting. But such was not the case. Terry was without arms. None were found upon his person, and, therefore, the only excuse that Nagle could plead for shooting down Judge Terry fails to materialize. If the Deputy Marshal was there for a legal purpose, he was there to preserve the peace and to protect Justice Field. He was certainly not there, in a legitimate sense, to kill Terry when he was not making a deadly assault upon Field. The rule of the law is that no more force shall be used by an officer to preserve the peace than is warranted by the circumstances of any particular case. The Marshal effectually set this rule at defiance, and "preserved the peace" by killing the man he should have merely arrested. It is no answer to say that this officer was carrying out the instructions of the Department of Justice at Washington. That Department, nor any Department or individual in the Government, has not the power to order the commission of a crime; and if the United States Attorney General issued instructions to the Marshals to kill Terry as he was killed, then that official is equally guilty with Nagle. There is no divinity in this country that doth hedge round a Judge, like a king, which permits crime to be committed for his protection, any more than there is for the hum blest citizen.

The Deputy Marshal cried "Stop!" and fired a bullet into Terry's heart. It would seem that the cry was altogether superfluous. Had he been a brave man he would have covered Terry and placed him under arrest. He had what is called "the drop" on him, and Terry would have been compelled to yield. There is a great deal of wild talk about Terry having made repeated threats to take Justice Field's life. These lack authentication. Terry was indisputably a brave man, and brave men do not go around making threats.

When Terry was asked by Mr. Stackpole, the proprietor of the dining station, if there was danger of a collision, he promptly told that gentleman to look out for his wife, learning that she had gone back to the car to get her satchel, in which was a pistol. The deduction from this is plain. He did not then intend to have a difficulty with Field, but he feared that Mrs. Terry, in her rash and impetuous mood, would do something that would force him into trouble. He wanted her intercepted. The sight of Field, however, sitting at the table, roused his ire, and he determined at once to so affront him that he would be compelled as a man of honor and one who had recognized the code to seek some means of satisfaction. This is the theory which men who knew Terry well believe is the correct one. If Terry had intended to have a mortal fracas with the Justice, he would have been armed.

The Deputy United States Marshal, however, was not called upon by the circumstances of the assault to kill Terry. Officers, whether State or Federal, are not warranted in executing punishment on people whom they see breaking the peace. They are the ministerial arms of the law, and when they usurp the authority of justice, and pass judgment upon and summarily execute offenders according to their own peculiar notions, they should be taught a severe and salutary lesson.

IN TODAY'S issue of the HERALD the Board of Education submits its reasons for building the High School at the gate of the old City Cemetery on Fort hill. The HERALD has opposed the erection of this building on this site, and the people are greatly opposed to this proposed action of the board. The people are opposed to the building of a High School at a cost of even $50,000 on the site proposed at any time, and of a High School of that or of a greater cost at this time on any site. The reasons on which these objections rest are wisely conceived. The board, in the article referred to, confesses that it finds great difficulty in taking care of the children of this city in its common schools. It also confesses that there are objections to the site chosen, but pleads for it on the ground that it is obtainable for nothing. At this time the taxpayers are called upon to grade streets, to lay sidewalks, to build a sewer system, to finish a City Hall, to erect a County Court House. The money demand is very heavy. At the same time there is a crying demand for more schools of the primary and grammar grades, and the schools ought not to be closed for so long a period as three months in the summer season. They ought to re-open September 1st. The site chosen for the High School is very objectionable on many accounts. One of the best reasons for not selecting it has not been named. It is this: All the children who come by car to attend the school must alight at the intersection of the three busiest streets in the city, a most dangerous point for them to do so. The school bonds as a general proposition ought to carry, but weighted down by the proposition to spend a full twenty-five per cent. of all the bonds on a High School, unpopular as it is under existing circumstances, the people may vote the proposition down. Were the board wise, and yielding to public opinion, as all such boards ought to be, they would declare themselves as in favor of providing in the most ample manner for primary and grammar grade schools; for ten months' schooling in the year, and content themselves with a $20,000 High School to be placed in some suitable location easily and safely reached from all parts of the city, and which five years from now might be converted into a good ward school, when a handsome High School might be erected. If the people should see fit to put their veto on the whole scheme the board will have its own obstinacy to blame for this result.

THERE is something decidedly unfortunate in the way officials of the Republican party in Los Angeles county have been in the habit of administering public trusts. To many of them there has been something very fascinating in the word defalcation, and even the graver terms forgery and embezzlement are not without their charms. It is to be hoped that there will be no lukewarm efforts on the part of certain public officials to ferret out the true inwardness of the shortage in the office of Mr. Montefio. Lauterio should be encouraged to tell the truth, and not bulldozed into keeping his mouth shut. Rumor goes very directly up to certain officials who are said to be particeps criminis in the diversion of the county moneys to personal use. A fine opportunity is offered to District Attorney Kelly to stand in with the people. He should avail himself of it, and not lay himself open to the suspicion of being willing to whitewash his party associates. We assure him that the taxpayers are at last aroused, and that they will be hostile to the point of vengeance against any one who shall countenance any concealments, or who shall fail to carry out both the spirit and the letter of the law. There is really something very dispiriting in the way that, time after time, the county funds have been tampered with. In "boom" times the taxpayers were comparatively indifferent. A few thousand dollars more or less made very little matter, but now the times are changed. With Orange county lopped off from Los Angeles, with the State and county taxes threatening to amount to two per cent., the voters will tolerate no foolishness. They want to know what has become of their money, even if the inquiry should result in the immurement of certain Republican officials in prison walls.

THE arbitrary attempt to raise the assessment of certain portions of the city of Los Angeles has created a great deal of very natural indignation. It has complicated the whole assessment proposition, and has set people to inquiring what becomes of the enormous sums raised by taxation in both the city and county. It is really remarkable the way the ducats disappear, and with comparatively nothing to show for them. The salaries and expenses in some of the offices have increased enormously, and we are informed that sinecures are growing at an alarming rate. To give an instance we are informed that there is a standing body appointed by the Council, which is a Commission on the Opening and Widening of Streets, and that its members draw $8 a day. If true, this is a rather marked instance of how to throw away money with a very questionable return. We shall detail a reporter to investigate this matter. But, whether it is true or no, the multiform way, in which money, city and county, is expended is enough to make the judicious grieve, and the parties who pay the taxes smart. If the collapse of the "boom" shall only have had the effect to make our citizens take an interest in their local affairs it will by no means have proved to be an unmixed evil.

C. M. WELLS sends us a communication on the subject of the lands available to take the sewage of this city by the river route. Mr. Caswell, executor of the estate of Remi Nadeau, offers to sign papers to take sewage upon 3,100 acres if delivered at the Nadeau vineyard tract. Colonel R. S. Baker will take sewage water to irrigate and fertilize 3,000 acres of the Rancho Laguna; and Mrs. Hollenbeck and Mrs. Julia Beneon will respectively take sewage for 118 and 106½ acres. Here are 6,324 acres of land ready to receive the sewage of this city. The South Side Irrigation Company now irrigate 2,000 acres, and expect to irrigate 1,700 acres more by extending their flow to the Tweedy ranch. So that there are 10,024 acres of land now taking and ready to take the city's sewage. The City Engineer has estimated that 5,000 acres will suffice to absorb the sewage flow of this city. Why spend $440,000 to carry a sewer to Ballona Harbor, when it is all wanted within five or six miles of the city?

MR. CONGER, a member of Congress from Iowa, is in the city, and takes a lively interest in our harbor at San Pedro. In order to act intelligently when the question of appropriation comes up, he yesterday made a tour of inspection of the harbor. Elsewhere in the HERALD will be found an interesting report of his visit. It seems that Senator Allison, when he returned to Iowa, after he had visited Los Angeles with the Senatorial Committee, had spoken in such glowing terms of Los Angeles and her possibilities that Mr. Conger was induced to come here to see for himself. Mr. Conger says that the other Senators were equally enthusiastic about our section when they returned, and by their glowing descriptions of our matchless country they excited the curiosity of a great many Eastern people, many of whom will pay our place a visit next winter.

THE TERRY TRAGEDY.

A Warrant for Judge Field's Arrest.

TIME FOR NAGLE'S HEARING SET.

Funeral Arrangements at Stockton. Mrs. Terry's Devotion to Her Dead.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

STOCKTON, August 15.—A warrant was this morning issued and placed in the hands of Sheriff Cunningham for the arrest of Justice Field. It was issued by District Attorney White on complaint of Mrs. Terry, who charges Judge Field with complicity in the killing of her husband.

Sheriff Cunningham left here at 1 o'clock this afternoon for San Francisco with the warrant to arrest Judge Field. The attorneys representing the defense promised that Field would appear when wanted, but the complaint in the case was made against Nagle and Field.

HOW IT CAME TO BE ISSUED.

The orders to Sheriff Cunningham to arrest Justice Field were issued by District Attorney White, who is a young lawyer with but brief experience, against the advice of his assistant, W. H. Gibson, an experienced prosecutor under several District Attorneys, and also Attorneys W. E. Turner and W. D. Grady, close friends of the deceased, as well as Clinton Terry, the only son of the deceased. The District Attorney says he did not want to take the responsibility of dismissing the complaint against Field.

WORDING OF THE WARRANT.

Following is the wording of the warrant issued by Justice of the Peace Swain, for the arrest of Justice Field:

Information on oath having been this day laid before me by Sarah A. Terry, that the crime of murder, a felony, has been committed within the said county of San Joaquin, on the 14th day of August, 1889, in this, that one David S. Terry, a human being, then and there was wilfully, unlawfully and feloniously, and with malice aforethought, shot, killed and murdered, and accuses Stephen Field and David Nagle, therefore you are commanded forthwith to arrest the above-named Stephen Field and David Nagle, and bring them before me, at my office, in the city of Stockton.

(Signed) H. V. SWAIN.

NOT YET ARRESTED.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 15.—Sheriff Cunningham, of San Joaquin county, arrived here from Stockton at 9 o'clock tonight with a warrant for the arrest of Justice Field. As, however, the hour was late and the warrant had to be endorsed by some magistrate of this city, before it could be served, Cunningham decided to wait until tomorrow morning before serving it. Justice Field remained quietly at the Palace Hotel, this evening, and received a few callers.

Judge Terry's death yesterday and the scenes surrounding it have been the principal topic of conversation here today. Telegrams have been pouring in upon Justice Field congratulating him upon his narrow escape. Among those sending telegrams are his three brothers, Cyrus W. Field, David Lindley Field, Henry M. Field, Judge M. P. Deady, of Oregon, and Jas. H. Choate, President of the New York Bar Association.

HOW FIELD PASSED THE MORNING.

Justice Field, shortly before 11 o'clock, drove to the Appraisers' building. He went immediately to the Circuit Court chambers, where he was soon joined by Judge Sawyer and Judge D. J. Brewer, of the Eighth Illinois Circuit, and the three proceeded immediately to hear the argument in a habeas corpus case. Justice Field referred freely, in conversation with the attorneys and his associates, to the exciting incidents of yesterday. He is still under the protection of a Deputy Marshal, as is also Judge Sawyer.

HEARING SET FOR WEDNESDAY.

STOCKTON, Cal., August 15.—Deputy Marshal Nagle was brought into court this afternoon to have his preliminary examination set. He wanted an early hearing, but it was decided to set the examination for next Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

Messrs. Dudley, Campbell, Budd, McElrath and McPike have already offered their services as counsel. Strong efforts will be made after the examination to secure bail. If it is refused the matter will be appealed.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE FUNERAL.

STOCKTON, August 15.—The remains of Judge Terry will be taken to the Episcopal church at noon tomorrow, and lie in state till two o'clock, when the services of the church will be rendered by a Sacramento choir. The pall bearers selected are: Henry C. Wilson, of Tehama; B. F. Langford, Senator from the county; J. C. Smith, farmer; Paul W. Bennett, formerly Terry's law partner; General Edward Canavan and Captain Murray, Mexican war veterans; E. J. Colnon, journalist; James A. Morrissey, capitalist; ex-Mayor Welsh, Judge J. H. Budd, of the Superior Court; Judge Porter, formerly of Santa Rosa, now Justice of the Supreme Court of Arizona; S. D. Woods, attorney of Stockton; Mayor Rubenstein, G. W. Trahern, capitalist, an old-time friend of the deceased; Major J. D. Peters, grain dealer; W. E. Turner and W. D. Grady, lawyers.

These pall-bearers were selected by Mrs. Terry and Clinton Terry, some names being suggested by friends.

Judge Porter is expected to make an address at the grave, but friends will urge him not to do so.

Morgan Hill, brother of Mrs. Terry, arrived today and had an affecting meeting with his sister beside the bier. Mrs. Terry has remained at the morgue ever since the body was taken there, and says she will remain with her husband as long as he is above ground.

The body will be interred in the rural cemetery in the family plot, where lie the remains of Terry's first wife, who died in December, 1884, and his two sons.

GATHERING EVIDENCE FOR THE DEFENSE.

LATHROP, Cal., August 15.—About 9 o'clock this morning, ex-Assistant United States District Attorney McPike and Attorneys Campbell and Dudley arrived in a carriage for the purpose of getting the facts and instances connected with the great tragedy of yesterday. F. J. Lincoln, of the firm of Stackpole & Lincoln, the only reliable witness known at present, was requested to designate the positions occupied by Justice Field, Deputy Marshal Nagle, Terry and Mrs. Terry, which he minutely described. The attorneys mentioned are here in behalf of the defense.

TERRY INDICTMENTS PASSED OVER.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 15.—The cases of David S. Terry and Sarah A. Terry were down on the calendar of the United States District Court for today. Four indictments were pending against the former, and one against Mrs. Terry. They resulted from the scene in court last September, when Mrs. Terry had to be forcibly ejected from the court-room by Justice Field's order. When Clerk Manley told Judge Hoffman that the cases were down on today's calendar, the Judge ordered them passed in silence. Ex-Senator Reddy was present on behalf of the defense, but there was no argument, and no action of any kind was taken. It is understood that an application for the release of the bondsmen of the deceased will soon be made.

CYRUS W. FIELD INTERVIEWED.

NEW YORK, August 15.—Cyrus W. Field talked about the shooting this afternoon to a reporter who called upon him. He said: "We had known for some time past that our brother's life was in danger at the hands of Terry. He had been advised to carry a weapon, but replied if a Judge sitting in court was obliged to be armed in order to protect himself from attack, he had better give up his seat on the bench. From what we have learned of the case, we are satisfied Terry and his wife had arranged beforehand this attack upon my brother, and with a view to forcing him to resent an insult, so he might be shot and killed under such circumstances that the shooting would have the plea of self-defense to fall back upon. Had Deputy Marshal Nagle not been at hand the preconcerted programme of the Terrys would undoubtedly have been carried out, and my brother would have been slain. Judge Field would have resented Terry's attack, I know, and I suppose no one would doubt that he, unarmed as he was, would have been at once shot down.

A COWARDLY OUTRAGE.

"Directly I heard of the shooting of Terry I telegraphed to my brother, who sent an answer in which he detailed briefly the circumstances. He characterized Judge Terry's attack upon him as a cowardly outrage, and cited circumstances attending it as showing it was premeditated and intended to force a collision during which he (Judge Field) would have been shot down. He said Judge Terry was regarded generally in the community as a dangerous man, and that the fact that he had threatened the lives of Judge Field and Judge Sawyer was widely known. Deputy Marshal Nagle's action, he said, was endorsed as justifiable by the community. Although my brother was aware of his danger I think he hardly regarded Terry's threats as seriously as did those who were better acquainted with the man. He would have been well able to protect himself against an ordinary assault, and would have done so had the affair proceeded no further, but all the circumstances show that in his resentment of Terry's attack he would have been carrying out exactly the part assigned to him by the Terrys.

WHAT GENERAL SHERMAN SAID.

General William T. Sherman made a call yesterday upon Cyrus W. Field, and had a talk with him about the shooting of Judge Terry. Not long afterward the General was visited by a reporter who knew the General had been present in San Francisco during the troublesome days of 1855-7, and taken charge of the military force then hurriedly organized. General Sherman acknowleged that such was the case.

"I know too much about the affairs of that time in California," said he, "but I won't talk about them. I won't express any opinion bearing upon the present case. I don't need to; Justice Field is amply able to attend to the case. At the same time I am very willing that you should find out all that I know about affairs in California at the time Judge Terry was prominent in connection with the vigilantes' work."

The General then told, in a reminiscent way, much interesting history of those stirring times, and especially of his meetings with Judge Terry.

FOREIGN FLASHES.

Boulanger's Sentence Occasions No Excitement.

PARIS, August 15.—The sentence imposed on Boulanger, Dillon and Rochefort has occasioned no excitement thus far. The utmost quietness has prevailed. The Republican journals are convinced that public opinion will ratify the decree. The Conservative and Boulangist papers are sanguine that the general elections for members of the Chamber of Deputies will show that the people do not approve the verdict.

It is alleged that the French Ambassador to England has been instructed to sound the English Government on the question of extraditing Boulanger, Dillon and Rochefort.

A grand Bonapartist banquet was given here tonight, at which 1,600 persons were present. Every mention of the name of General Boulanger by the speakers was greeted with acclamation.

THE MAYBRICK CASE.

LIVERPOOL, August 15.—Stewart, an analytical chemist of Glasgow, who was prepared to testify at the trial of Mrs. Maybrick, and whose evidence condemned the woman, said he has kept back a written letter in which he says Maybrick died through his own secret habit of taking arsenic. The Lancet published a five-column review of the trial, and comes to the conclusion that the evidence warranted the verdict.

Sullivan's Trial Formally Begun.

KILRAIN RELEASED ON BAIL.

Harrison and Cleveland Both Homeward Bound from New England.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

PURVIS, Miss., August 15.—A jury was completed after considerable delay today, and Sullivan was placed on trial. The champion pleaded not guilty, and the examination of witnesses for the prosecution began in regular order. Major W. W. Robinson was called to the stand, and testified that he attended the prize fight and saw all that occurred. He recited the occurrences in detail, and told how the two men had exchanged heavy blows. Witness testified that he saw Sullivan jump on Kilrain with his knees, and affirmed positively that Sullivan's knees touched Kilrain's body.

Among the other witnesses called were T. R. White, Foreman of the Grand Jury, J. S. Hollman, Sheriff J. W. Comart and J. W. Smith. All testified to having witnessed the fight.

PRESIDENT AND PEOPLE.

Harrison Concludes His Visit in New England.

MANCHESTER, N. H., August 15.—President Harrison took a drive among the mills this morning, after which he left amid cheers on the special train for Concord.

CONCORD, N. H., August 15.—On his arrival, the President and party drove through a drizzling rain to the Capitol, where the Governor and other State officials welcomed him. He was then presented to the Legislature in joint session. He made a brief address, which was without political significance, and then the Legislature adjourned and its members were presented to the President.

The President was then conducted to a stand in front of the Capitol, where the Governor introduced him to the people.

He was greeted with cheers, and spoke a few patriotic words, contrasting his situation when surrounded by selfish place-hunters with that when confronting the masses of the people, whose highest concern is good government. A collation at the Eagle House followed.

FALL RIVER, Mass., August 15.—From Concord to Fall River the trip was a series of ovations. Governor Goodell left the car at Nashua, and Surgeon-General Holt, of Massachusetts, joined the party as the representative of Governor Ames. He travelled on the car to South Farmingham, and then bade the President goodby. When the platform at Fall River was reached, at 7:10 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. Choate escorted General Harrison through the line of spectators to the steamer Pilgrim. Those who were on the upper deck leaned over and cheered the President as he went on board, while others joined in greeting him as he walked through the saloon.

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND AND WIFE.

FALL RIVER, Mass., August 15.—Ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland left Marion this afternoon, taking the steamer Providence for New York. Mr. Cleveland was recognized as he left the car with his wife, and was heartily cheered, though he was evidently desirous of evading any demonstration.

VIRGINIA DEMOCRATS.

State Ticket Nominated and a Strong Platform Adopted.

RICHMOND, Va., August 15.—The State Democratic Convention met at 10 o'clock and proceeded to take a second ballot for Governor. Before the roll-call was completed Captain Phil W. McKinney was nominated by acclamation. The convention then nominated J. Hoge Tyler for Lieutenant Governor by acclamation. A recess was taken till 4 o'clock.

Upon reassembling, the convention nominated for Attorney General, R. T. Scott, of Fauquier. Basil B. Gordon, of Rappahanock county, was elected Chairman of the State Central Committee. A platform was then adopted and the convention adjourned sine die.

The platform opens with the declaration of the people of the State, that through the wise legislation and administration of the Democratic party, the public schools have been preserved in efficient operation and their accommodations extended; that the resources necessary for the conduct of the Government in all its departments have been secured.

The platform closes thus: "We oppose the Republican party as the party of high taxes, of corrupt and extravagant expenditure of the public revenues, of unjust and oppressive treatment of the people of the Southern States; as the creator of trusts and the promoter of monopolies. We oppose the Republican party because it has stirred up strife between the races, and has been a false friend to the colored race and an enemy to the white race."

THE FORESTERS DIVIDED.

A Split Occasioned by the Color Line.

MINNEAPOLIS, August 15.—The Subsidiary High Court of the Ancient Order of Foresters today voted to sever connection with the High Court of England and organize an American High Court. Differences arose over the admission of colored men to the order, the English High Court insisting on it and the Americans objecting.

At this afternoon's session the new order adopted as its name, "Ancient Order of Foresters of America." A motion to send a cablegram to England, notifying the High Court of the move, was opposed by W. S. Elliott, the Assistant State's Attorney of Chicago, and England was completely ignored. Henry Bunning, the first proposer of the new name, was this afternoon presented with a magnificent and appropriate badge.

BASEBALL.

The Clevelands Give a Batting Exhibition.

CLEVELAND, August 15.—The greatest batting exhibition of the year took place today. The Clevelands made twenty-seven hits, with a total of forty-eight bases. Score: Cleveland, 19; Boston, 8. Base hits: Cleveland, 27; Boston, 10. Errors: Cleveland, 2; Boston, 4. Batteries: Bakely, Twitchell and Gruber, and Zimmer, Madden and Kelly. Umpire, Lynch.

WON BY LUCKY HITTING.

CHICAGO, August 15.—Lucky hitting in the sixth and ninth pulled the game out of the hands of the Washingtons today. Score: Chicago, 7; Washington, 6. Base hits: Chicago, 11; Washington, 9. Errors: Chicago, 1; Washington, 3. Batteries: Chicago, Tener and Farrell; Washington, Ferson and Daly. Umpire, McQuaid.

PITTSBURG DOES UP NEW YORK.

SACRAMENTO DEFEATED BY STOCKTON.

STOCKTON, August 15.—Sacramento was defeated this afternoon in a well-played game by a score of 5 to 2. Both Fudger and Burke were in fine form and pitched a good game. Fudger was the more effective, and kept his opponents down to three hits. His support was of the finest kind, only two errors being made. The Stocktons found Burke for six hits, one being a three bagger by Selna. Sacramento made five errors. Howard was unable to play, on account of a sprained knee, and Sweeney covered second, Selna going to first and Leinze, an amateur, playing left field.

THE OAKLANDERS BE AT THE 'FRISCOS.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 15.—The game today at the Haight-street grounds between the Oaklands and San Franciscos was won by the former by a score of 21 to 17. The Oaklands put Farrel in the box, but in the second inning he gave way to Smalley on account of his wildness. The result was that, before the inning was ended, eleven of the 'Friscos had crossed the home plate, while but two of the Oaklands had met with the same success. In the third inning they managed to pile up two more, while Smalley retired the Friscos, but in the fourth inning the Oaklands hammered the ball all over the field, Hardie getting a home run. This was kept up until six runs were scored. They added three more in the fifth, one in the sixth and two in the seventh, which gave them a lead of five runs. The San Franciscos then tied the score. The Oaklands in the eighth inning made five more runs and won the game.

Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, August 15.—The Secretary of the Treasury has appointed Wm. E. Thomas storekeeper and gauger in the Fourth California District.

WANAMAKER AND GREEN.

The telegraph rate situation remains unchanged. Postmaster-General Wanamaker has entire charge of the whole matter, and is in conference with President Norvin Green, of the Western Union, in regard to it.

Leech Lake Indians.

BRAINERD, Minn., August 15.—The first word received from the Indian Commission at Leech Lake reservation came this morning by a half-breed. He says that villagers on that reservation are in a deadly quarrel over the presence of the Commission, and about equally divided as between those who are willing to sign and those opposed, the latter threatening death to the first person who does sign. As a consequence, no one has yet signed, and the Commissioners have devoted their whole efforts so far to preventing a conflict. The opponents are fully armed with Winchester rifles, and have gone so far as to threaten all the whites on the reserve. The Commissioners are safely lodged at a ranch. They have sent another runner out, probably with dispatches for the Government. It is reported that a young buck, a relative of Chief Flat Mouth, was shot for favoring signing.

North Dakota Statehood.

BISMARCK, August 15.—The report of the Committee on Elective Franchise was adopted. This makes it necessary to submit the question of woman suffrage to a vote of the people. The general elections of the State shall be biennial and held in November. It gives the women the right to vote at all school elections. The article on municipal corporations was adopted, the section providing that no city, town or village shall ever become a subscriber to the capital stock of any railroad or private corporation being stricken out. A resolution indorsing the proposition to hold the World's Fair in the city of Chicago was adopted with great enthusiasm.

Would-Be Regulators.

GRAND COUTEAU, La., August 15.—About 2 o'clock last night a mob visited the residence of J. B. Duplocheon, about four miles from here, for the purpose of regulating a mulatto woman whose conduct did not exactly suit their ideas. The woman was taken by the crowd, and as she was being carried away Duplocheon came up and made an attempt to shoot, but his gun failed to fire, and the mob turned and seriously wounded him, filling him full of buckshot from his head to his waist. Duplocheon fired after he was shot, and caused them to release the woman. A hat was found which was recognized, and the guilty parties will be brought to justice, as it is understood the woman can identify some of the party.

Villard's Proposition.

NEW YORK, August 15.—The Directors of the Northern Pacific railroad, at their regular meeting today, received the proposition from Henry Villard to issue a consolidated mortgage of $160,000,000, but on account of lack of time consideration was postponed until Wednesday next. The plan provides not only for the refunding of the present bonded debt at a low rate of interest, but will also wipe out the floating debt and provide funds for a new equipment and improvements.

PACIFIC COAST.

New Sensation Sprung in the Blythe Case.

A FARMER ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Terrible Burning by a Kerosene Explosion at Santa Barbara.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 15.—The principal witness in the Blythe case yesterday was Mrs. Elizabeth McLellan, of Los Angeles, but formerly a keeper of a boarding school at Northenden, England. She testified that in 1882 Florence was brought to her school, and she identified Florence in court. Her husband and daughter also identified Florence, having seen her at the school.

Mrs. Malvina Collins testified that Blythe told her he had a daughter in England.

A SENSATION.

Quite a sensation occurred today when L. H. Varney, the confidential agent of Thomas H. Blythe, produced a copy of the adoption papers of Florence Blythe, which he said he had found in a book belonging to the deceased. It is a copy of a paper drawn up by W. H. H. Hart, and which the latter claims Blythe signed in February, 1883. The copy introduced today was not dated or signed.

Ex-Congressman J. K. Luttrell testified that Blythe told him at one time that he had an illegitimate daughter who was being educated at Manchester, England, and that he had left all his property to her in a will, excepting a few bequests to some friends and the Masonic order.

THE DISPUTED PROPERTY.

John A. Roach, in answer to the suit of James C. Perrine, administrator of Blythe's estate, says that he has turned over to the plaintiff $3,500,000 worth of property, which was in the hands of Phillip Roach, deceased, as Public Administrator. He prays that the accounts be approved.

MUSICIAN MUTINEERS.

Penalties Inflicted Upon Them by the Court-Martial.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 15.—Colonel Dickinson, of the Second Brigade, N. G. C., issued orders today announcing the findings and sentences of the court-martial in the cases of the members of the regimental band who refused to parade July 4th.

In the cases of members of the First Infantry band, three men are acquitted of all the charges preferred, while eight men who were sentenced to be dishonorably discharged, have had their sentence modified to $16 fine, each, in view of the fact that they have lost pay for not parading, and pay for the annual encampment, and eight day's rations.

One member of the Second Regiment band is acquitted, and of the twenty-three others convicted, sentence is annulled in the case of eight, who enlisted with the understanding that they were not to parade; the other fifteen are sentenced to pay a fine of $16 each, as were fourteen men of the Third Infantry band. Six members of the latter band were acquitted of all charges.

ROASTED TO DEATH.

The Kerosene Can and Its Deadly Work.

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., August 15.—Carolina Charisen attempted to build a fire with kerosene this afternoon, when the can exploded, covering her with flames. She ran frantically up stairs and threw herself from an upper window to the ground. When picked up she was completely baked, the skin coming off in all parts of her body. She lingered about an hour and a-half before she died; meantime the house and all its contents were consumed. Loss, $2,500; no insurance so far as known.

Southern Pacific Earnings.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 15. — The Southern Pacific Company has filed an approximate report of its earnings for the past six months. In that period the gross earnings were in round numbers, $21,260,000; the net earnings were $6,024,000. The decrease this year from the earnings of the first six months of last year is $807,000 in gross, and $1,268,000 in net earnings. Speaking of this decrease, Secretary Lansing says: "The falling off in gross earnings this year is due in a great measure to the cessation of travel and shipments into Southern California." Lansing estimates the earnings of the next six months to be very large, owing to the movement of the grain crops.

CLAN-NA-GAEL.

Annual Picnic of the Chicago Branch.

IT IS HELD IN TWO SECTIONS

The Cronin and Anti-Cronin Factions—Resolutions Adopted by Each.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.]

CHELTENHAM BEACH, CHICAGO, August 15.—The friends of the late Dr. Cronin held a section of the annual Clan-na-Gael picnic here today, with large crowds present. The amusements consisted of athletic games, which were followed in the afternoon and evening by speeches by Congressman Foran, of Cleveland; Hon. M. J. Ryan, of Philadelphia; Congressman Lawler, of Chicago; John Devoy, of New York; Thomas P. Tuite, of Detroit, and others. A long statement, with accompanying preamble and resolutions, was read and adopted. It recognizes fealty to this Nation as the first and highest obligation of the Clan-na-Gael organization, and next thereafter pledges support to the cause of Irish liberty, to be secured under the leadership of Parnell and Gladstone. The statement then reads:

Resolved, That we denounce with all the force of indignant language our utter abhorrence of the assassination, murder and moral assassination resorted to by the murderers of Dr. Cronin to cover up the embezzlement of money and the betrayal of the people whose devotion to the cause of liberty too often makes them victims of designing knaves.

Resolved, That, knowing Dr. P. H. Cronin to have been a patriotic, high-minded, pure Christian gentleman, utterly incapable of playing the role of a sycophant or falsely living the life of a spy, we brand as a most malicious libel and moral assassination the infamous report that he was the agent of England; on the contrary, knowing him to be the defender of honesty and truth, we hereby declare it to be our solemn conviction that for his faithful adherence to the Irish cause, honesty and truth, he was foully murdered to prevent the exposure of actual criminals who have dragged down that cause in blood and tears into the dust of our Gethsemane.

Resolved, That the crime of this most atrocious murder calls forth all the energies of our civilization for the speedy and extreme penalty of the law, and we pledge our abiding support to the authorities, until every guilty man shall have answered to the law for his participation in the most devilish murder which has reddened the annals of crime.

THE ANTI CRONIN FACTION.

CHICAGO, August 15.—The anti-Cronin section of the Clan-na-Gael demonstration at Ogden's grove drew a large crowd of people today. The speakers were escorted to the grove by the Clan-na-Gael Guards, Hibernian Rifles and Chicago Zouaves. It was after 1 o'clock when they arrived. They were Senator Thos. F. Grady, of New York; Rev. George W. Pepper, of Ohio; Hon. O'Neil Ryan, of St. Louis, and Judge Fitzgerald, of Cincinnati. An address, read and adopted by the audience, opened with a declaration of devotion to the laws and principles of the American Republic and unchangeable sympathy with the cause of Irish liberty, the plan on which it is to be worked for to be decided by the people of Ireland themselves. The address continues:

We fully recognize, further, that, destitute of those means of asserting their liberty which would alone make revolution justifiable, we are willing to aid them in such peaceful measures as they may choose to adopt in bringing the Government of England to the sense of duty that it owes to justice and to humanity, by restoring to the Irish people the right to make their own laws and to live in self-respecting manhood upon their own soil.

It has been asserted by those instrumental in covering us with defamation, that we wish to screen the murderers of Dr. Cronin. We meet here today, among other reasons, for the purpose of vehemently denouncing his atrocious murder, in our capacity as American citizens, but hold that as Irish-Americans we have no more right to be held responsible for that foul atrocity than has any other element of our body politic for crimes committed by persons to whom they are kindred. We devoutly hope that the officers authorized by the law, will succeed in bringing to justice the assassins of Dr. Cronin.

We repudiate, both as American citizens and Irish-Americans, the claim made by enemies of our race that the Irish element has any desire or any purpose to make the soil of America the theater of any acts of vengeance because of feuds, factions or disagreements growing out of political differences or personal heartburnings.

We return our sincere and most grateful thanks to Hon. John M. Thayer, Governor of Nebraska, for his defense of the honor of our race against the reckless slanders of a society of professed foreigners.

EXCHANGE REVIEW

NEW YORK, August 15.—Dullness in the stock market was further increased today, and the total transactions for the day were the smallest for any full day for a long time. The fluctuations were of the same limited scale as the business, and less than half a dozen of the usually active stocks were traded in over a range of ½ per cent. The market finally closed intensely dull and steady at about the opening figures. The final changes, except in the Atchison, which is down 1¼ per cent., are for the smallest fractions only, and about equally divided between gains and losses.

Government bonds dull and steady.

A VOLUNTARY DESERTION.

Mrs. Persinger Says That is Why She Left Home.

A habeas corpus case came before Judge Wade yesterday, behind which lies a little story. George and Mary Persinger are, or rather have been, man and wife. All went happily in their home, so far as known, until one Isaac Thomas came to board at their house. For some reason or other Thomas got between the couple, and on the 4th day of August he came to the officials and preferred charges against Persinger, complaining that he had threatened the life of Mrs. Persinger. An officer was sent down to arrest Persinger, and when he was taken away the wife said she would follow at once, coming to the court by the street car. She never came, and for several days she could not be found. At last she was discovered to be at the Moro Castle, but she refused to have any further relations with her husband. On last Wednesday she filed an affidavit for divorce, and yesterday Persinger swore out a writ of habeas corpus, alleging that she was illegally restrained of her liberty by Thomas. When brought into court she stated that she was acting by her own volition, uninfluenced by any person. While the matter was before the court, and after the Judge had refused to interfere, Persinger made renewed attempts to induce her to return, but she firmly refused to do so. The man was deeply affected by this desertion on the part of his wife.

AMUSEMENTS.

Karl Gardner.

This sweet singer will appear next week at the Grand. His attractions are Karl, the Peddler, and Fatherland. The press of many cities speak in terms of the highest commendation of Mr. Gardner and his company. His songs are new, and they are well rendered.

The People's Theater.

Mr. James M. and Carrie Clarke Ward are entertaining large audiences at this popular place of amusement with their clever delineation of Irish character in the Red Fox. They are ably supported by Mr. W. C. Crosbie, Miss Mabel Berry, Mr. Clarence T. Arner, Miss Georgie Tallenger and the regular stock company. The play is full of humor and pathos and the cave scene in the last act is particularly effective. The piece will have a good run.

The Massac Mines.

General Massac, the successor to the International Company's concessions in Lower California, is in the city. He says the three-masted schooner John Hancock is now due at San Diego from San Francisco. She will arrive at Ensenada about the end of the week. At San Diego she will take on 150 Chinese miners to work in the mines in Lower California. There are a large number of Chinese now working there, and inside of sixty days there will be as many as 500 at work in the mines.

The John Hancock took in a large amount of supplies for mining and for provisioning the Chinese camps at San Francisco, and will take on more at San Diego. She has on board a thirty horsepower engine, a steam launch, a lot of boats, and other apparatus for pearl fishing.

The fisheries exist in Magdalena bay, and the work of getting them will be done by Chinese divers. This branch of the enterprise will be carried on by Captain Salvador Z. Salorio, an experienced pearl diver. The Colonel holds a concession from the Mexican Government for these privileges. He says that he will draw from this State a large number of Chinese miners who have been ruled out of the hydraulic mines by recent enactments of this State.

A Manufactured Scar.

C. J. W. James, a waiter at the Opera restaurant, on Main street, was tried before Police Judge Owens yesterday for battering Charlie Lim, a cook at the same place. He was accused of attacking the Chinaman with a plate and cutting him on the chin with a knife. In support of his testimony the heathen had a crescent-shaped wound upon his chin, which appeared remarkably like that which would be produced by a knife. The Court being somewhat suspicious, however, summoned Dr. Morrison, the Police Surgeon, who in open court examined the wound and found it to have been artificially laid on with cobbler's wax, which when removed disclosed no scar at all. The defendant was discharged.

Successful Horse Sale.

The Shetland pony and horse sale of John W. Gardner's, held at Benton's stables yesterday, was a decided success. A large and enthusiastic audience assembled at the appointed hour, and the bidding was animated from the opening to the close, resulting in the very satisfactory sale of $3,665 worth of stock. Single ponies brought as high as $160; pairs, between $300 and $400. Single horses brought as high as $295, and one fine team $500. Many ladies graced the assemblage with their presence and took part in the bidding. Ben O. Rhoades, as auctioneer, acquitted himself in his usual able manner, and aided much in keeping the audience in a good humor, in spite of the intense heat of the weather, which has a tendency to make an audience restless. Mr. Gardner is to be congratulated on his first adventure, which will no doubt encourage him to continue such annual sales, and redouble his efforts in promoting an industry heretofore unknown in Southern California.

Fred W. Barnes sues C. B. Holmes for certain money due on a street contract.

S. T. Alexander sues P. C. Tonner to quiet title to certain real estate.

The Terry-Broderick Pistols.

In a saloon on Merchant street, opposite the gun store of H. B. Adams, are a pair of pistols which are said to be those used in the famous Terry-Broderick collision in 1859, when Senator Broderick lost his life. The pistols were exhibited in the HERALD office some months ago, and declared then, by an eye-witness of the duel, to be the very pair used on that occasion.

Including the Eye, Ear and Heart.
OFFICE:

We take pleasure in announcing to the public that we combine the Compound Oxygen Treatment with our system of practice in the cure of Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Insomnia, Sore Throat, Catarrh, Rheumatism and Nervous Prostration.

As is well known, oxygen is the life-giving principle in the air we breathe and ozone in the air imparts that happy and buoyant feeling after thunderstorms. Persons often require more oxygen than is in the air around them, and cause doors and windows to be opened, tear off collars, loosen the waist, and call for a fan to displace the stifling and bring fresher air or more oxygen. Traveling is done mainly to resorts where the air contains more oxygen, and mountains are ascended to breathe the ozone, which is light and ascends from the earth.

Oxygen and ozone are gases, and must be stored up and used by inhaling them. Our apparatus for storing and giving these gases, compounded with other suitable agents, is perfect; and, although they are not a cure-all, yet they are undoubtedly the greatest invention made in the last 20 years in any department of medicine, and the results are truly wonderful.

Oxygen acts by purifying the blood, thereby increasing the circulation, promotes absorption, improves digestion and assimilation, increases the capability of the lungs, and acts as a gentle stimulant to the nervous system.

The London, England, Lancet, very truthfully says: "The Compound Oxygen treatment is the greatest discovery of the nineteenth century." Clergymen, statesmen, lawyers, doctors, and all classes indiscriminately, whenever it is introduced, both use and recommend it.

J. B. Marshall, Kansas City, says: I gained 15 pounds in weight while using the Compound Oxygen treatment one month for consumption under Dr. Williams' care, of Los Angeles, and in three months I was cured.

Hon. Bert Monroe, Columbus, Ohio, says: I used the Compound Oxygen for about six weeks in December last, while under Dr. Williams' care, of Los Angeles, for bronchitis and catarrh, since which time I have had no symptoms whatever. I gained 22 pounds while using it. I never tried anything equal to it.

Mrs. Charles Gibson, of San Jose, Cal., says: The Compound Oxygen I used while under the care of Dr. M. Hilton Williams, of Los Angeles, entirely cured me of dyspepsia and rheumatism, combined with insomnia, in two months, after having suffered for 16 years. There is nothing like the Compound Oxygen treatment.

Rev. Asa Bradley, of San Francisco, Cal., says: I went to South Cal. on account of nervous prostration. Hearing of the wonderful success of Dr. M. Hilton Williams, with his Compound Oxygen treatment, I tried it for one month and really during that time a complete transformation took place. I am now as well as ever, and weigh the most I ever weighed since I left England 27 years ago.

John Knox, Jr., D. D., of Hamilton, Ont., says: In January, 1889 Dr. M. Hilton Williams, of Los Angeles, Cal., cured me of tubercular consumption, which I had for six years. I used nothing else but his Compound Oxygen treatment. Its vitalizing force is wonderful.

Samuel Gray, Los Angeles, says: Compound Oxygen, under the direction of Dr. Williams, cured me of catarrh and throat disease in six weeks, after suffering for 18 years.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless both lungs are seriously involved. Even then the inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in connecting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best references from those already cured.
